SKIN CONDITIONS & FACIAL ANALYSIS.

Leading with a holistic approach to skin, this 100% theoretical online course is suitable for any student with a passion for skin health and optimal treatment results.

This advanced course provides students with a deep understanding in how skin conditions are formed, why and where they develop in the skin and how to treat them. Facilitated by our experienced online Dermal Educators, this course has been tailor made to give you the ultimate education in the exciting world of dermal therapies.

Specifically you will gain a deep understanding into the four main conditions of the skin: dehydration, pigmentation, acne and ageing. Based on each indication, you will learn about the physiological activity that occurs in the epidermis and dermis and how these factors contribute to the skins overall condition. Through the use of cosmeceutical science, you will gain an in-depth knowledge to effectively diagnose and prescribe the optimal treatment journey for your clients.
